

Behold the Aureofe hat. These be coming hats, which frame the face nike a paid, are the keypote or comine styles in millinery. The tip-tilted hat is having its last triumphs.

THE BOLERO BODICE IN EVIDENCE.

Gold Braid, Too, Is Considered an Absolutely Necessary Adjunct of the Wheel Woman's Attire-Evening Gowns Are Flower-Trimmed.

EW YORK, July 17 .- The 'cyclist is the honors with the summer girl of dress. In fact, the modiste has more difficult task in conceiving me new for the 'cyclist than for but erection who charms by the as and elsewhere, have been looking the last few days at veigns, or rather some costumes cycle girl, and out of all that I on I selected three to write some about. The first is made of black and fine, the skirt trimmed with five just below the hips and finish ar at the knees. The braid plays riant part, too, in the adornmen bolero bodice, being arranged in fashion in front with barrel butat by a band and bow of black the sleeves are distinguished ly shaped cuffs trimmed with id seftened by a frilling of silk. to me that such a suit as this coice, the sleeves, and the company with an edging of The full front was a charmof white chiffon and terminates ostume was of dark mauve liar, revers and cuffs of vio with a fine fancy braid in violet little Eton coat-which, by sts of a silk lining-is turned dainty buttons in gold and here and there with blue n the weather demands exdouble breasted fashion. walking, thanks to th f tailor-made affairs.

are largely used as trim ing gowns. Violets chiffen, and the modest little an be well utilized on white th draperies of tender, green match their stalks. With this could be used with charming very dainty headgear is being dilayed by the milliners. One feature parkeular attracts attention, a dainty in white crinoline, with palest manve it and yellowish lace draped around a crown, and combined to form high owe at one side, while for further forment, there are some cleverly. fument, there are some cleverly sped white ostrich feathers, one or ate pink roses, and sundry ro-

other hat where the dominant note such the crown is tashioned, and then j

this summer are a perfectly light and side. cool canvas sailor, with black velvet side. It is the supposition that there are band and bows and white quills, and a lit is the supposition that there are coarse straw sailor trimmed with black brides at all times of year, and that is coarse straw sailor trimmed with black why I suppose that there is such an analysis of the sail times of year, and that is not only happy is the bride the sun shines on, but happy is the bride the sun shines on, but happy is the bride whose gown is trimmed with silk Maitese lace. Some one was telling me the other day that I ought to write more about was pink on a bride in which was pink on a bride the other day that I ought to write more about ever been summer girl wors. The first is made of black was pink on a black and white ground shepherd's plaid cloth, very The skirt was made with three frills.

Another contume worn by a debutante and really, for one, I don't feel like was of dark gray bengaline. The coat bodice was white, Louis Quinze in style, the fronts embroidered in steel and glitto does duty in narrower form toring. The costume is completed cloth, all forming a design essentially of the vest of white crinkled sifk, and at the neck and held in by a band and bow of black.

To does duty in narrower form toring palliettes, over insertions of white cloth, all forming a design essentially of the period. With this costume was worn a large black hat with black ostrich plumes. A rosette of turquoise blue velocity is a diamond. ornament in the centre completed the cos-

A very effective gown was of yellow a very enective gown was or yellow gauze over yellow slik, delicately embroi-dered in sliver and applied designs in lace, with a full front, a tiny pleated vest of chiffon, and a chiffon sash. The sleeves at the hem with quillings of white and yellow chiffon. A very delicate and, perhaps, the smartest dress worn on the occes, the sleeves and the skirt was finished at the hem with quillings of white and yellow chiffon. A very delicate and, perhaps, the smartest dress worn on the occesion to which I refer haps, the smartest dress worn on the occasion to which I refer, was a costume of white organide muslin, embroidered with Louis Seize bows, connected by a floral trail executed in tones of pale crocus, mauve, and yellow. The yoke was of transparent lace inserted cleverly in a very original bodice of white benga- wire to please you.

FASHIONAND CYCLES

shepherd's plaid and maddle cutting folds of white chiffon, and two high oscillars very swell for girls.

shepherd's plaid and maddle cutting folds of white chiffon, and two high oscillars and white chiffon, and two high oscillars was prettily repeated in the waistband. The last of the notable gowns I noticed was of dove-gray moire, with a signal state of dove-gray moire, with a signal state of the coloring of the embroidery was prettily repeated in the waistband. The last of the notable gowns I noticed was of dove-gray moire, with a signal state of the coloring of the embroidery was prettily repeated in the waistband. The last of the notable gowns I noticed was of dove-gray moire, with a signal state of the fancy figures at which legs, and fingers are sametimes appraised. The last of the notable gowns I noticed was of dove-gray moire, with a signal state of the fancy figures at which legs, and fingers are sametimes appraised. The last of the notable gowns I noticed was of dove-gray moire, with a signal state of the fancy figures at which legs, and fingers are sametimes appraised. The last of the notable gowns I noticed was of dove-gray moire, with a signal state of the fancy figures at which legs, and fingers are sametimes appraised. The last of the postal gowns I noticed was of dove-gray moire, with a signal state of the fancy figures at which legs, and fingers are sametimes appraised. The last of the notable gowns I noticed was of dove-gray moire, with a signal state of the fancy figures at which legs, and fingers are sametimes appraised. The last of the notable gowns I noticed was of dove-gray moire, with a signal state of the fancy figures at which legs, and fingers are sametimes appraised.

The last of the notable gowns I noticed was of dove-gray moire, with a signal state of the fancy figures at which legs, and fingers are sametimes appraised.

The fancy figures at which legs, and fingers are sametimes appraised.

The same figures at which legs, and fingers are sametimes appraised.

Th and white chiffon, and two high os-trich feathers in the two colorings for its most effective trimming. There was also a rosy hued toque of pink straw and chiffon, with pink roses peeping out there and there, and a white ostrich tip there and there, and a white ostrich tip trimmed with black velvet and tea-roses, and control of the contrast. lace. There was a little puffed edging of gray chiffon and a white folded coiand osprey for contrast.

The 'cycling hats of smart simplicity this summer are a perfectly light and this summer are a perfectly light and side.

this latter has just a fouch of rose park increment lookout kept in their behalf, velvet, heading the folded band around to secure something new. The very the crown, while in order that every one the crown, while in order that every one may be provided for the few, but faithful. Maltese lace as trimming for the wedfollowers of the bonnet, which has come to be despised and neglected of the many, are provided with a smart little model, all gold passementeric, with little we might very easily say this year that was pink on a back and white ground.

The skirt was made with three frills, each edged with narrow cream-colored guipurs lace. The sleeves were of four lard, like the skirt, and the rest of the bodice was of guipure over white satin and finished with a black sash.

Another continue were by a debatance.

Man.

(Banger Commercial.) Who ever heard of him! Where lies his glo; dim? What's he bow the knee Man!

Where Are his 'chievements great? Why doth he rule the State? How now! Why bow Man! What a poor thing! To him pity bring! Why, he Can't even be Orders for printing sent to the Dispatch The yoke Company will be given prompt attention, ted cleverly and the style of work and prices will pe

PRICE OF A LIMB. A LAWSUIT INVOLVING A CLAIM

FOR HEAVY DAMAGES. THE BABIES AND CITY NOISES.

The Sugar-Rag and Corn-Starch Association Discuss This Movement-The Fight for the Chicken Gizzard.

Unselfishness of Humanity.

The law, with all its intricacles of grammatical construction and dog Latin, is an object of great respect to me. I watch current litigation with the same eagerness that characterizes the gaze of a Keeley Institute graduate on the bunghole of a barrel of "Mountain Dew." In fact, I am something of an attorney myself, and can manipulate the statutes of limitations and homestead exemption in a manner calculated to make my grocer shudder. There is not a suit brought that escapes my attention, though suits bought have been scarce in my wardrobe for the last six years. A few months ago I noted the fact that a young lady from the Pledmont section had commenced an action of damages for $30,000 against a railway company. The tort which provokes her lawsuit is the loss of a leg-beg pardon, ladies. imb I should ray—and nothing but the sum mentioned will fill the aching void, or empty stocking of her existence. Supposing that the limb is not alleged to have a "pre-lum affectionis" (sentimental value), we can form some idea as to the figure at which this litigant values herginning, that the aggreed plaintiff has another article similar to the one lost, and placing this likewise at a value of $20,000, we start with a basis of $40,000. When we consider the bicycling craze and the irresistible magnetism of feminine bathing suits, we might at this sea-son even add a few thousands more to this figure, but. like the lawyers, we won't ask everything. If the limbs that furnish the motive power for a bike are respectively worth $20,000 par, the arms, at a conservative estimate, should bring $10,000 apiece, which will run the price up to $50,000. This will still leave a pretduam, at the lowest possible valuation, ought to be $60,000 more. Thus the grand total value of a lass, supposing all of her to be in evidence, would foot up something like $120,000. You may not appreciate this, but when you ask her hand, her father is quite apt to do some "footing up" himself. In fact, on several occasions of this sort, the hand, her father is a like the sort. liberal allowance of girl, and the resiral occasions of this sort, I've known was reduced to sausage, the law would only allow her representative $19,000. Leastwise, I think that's the present law though I frequently get the provision of Hening's Statutes mixed up with the Code of 1887. You will thus see that it s more lucrative to lose a leg or an arm is more lucrative to lose a reg chan to get killed, and decidedly more than to get killed, and decidedly more than to get killed. Fev people who have grasped at the $19,000 prize have lived to tell the tale or discuss the law. No limitation of damages is roylded where the claimant merely lose a limb or sestains bodily harm; hence the fancy figures at which legs, arms cats (two worthy objects of wrath), and the editor of this paper, who once los juvenile attempt to purloin watermelons has held up his end of the line against dogs. In fact, he never misses an or quadrupeds. So, too, the electric-car which are the scapegoats of civilizationave been reasted by designing person (who haven't pass-books), and them. In fact, a great noise has been raised by people who object to noise. But, notwithstanding the enthusiasm with which the majority of our citizens have tackled this subject, there are som who protest against the movement. O placid summer evening a few day since the Virginia Sugar-Rag and Corn Starch Association, assembled in baby carriages around the fountain of Monroe carriages around the fountain of Monroe Park, got in a vigorous protest against the anti-noise scheme, and stamped it with their infantile disapprobation. The organization, as its name indicates, is composed of infants ranging from 3 days to 2 years old. It is a prosperous association, and those in the matrimonial business made attest the fort that it. business sadly attest the fact that its membership is increasing daily. The per-sonnel of this organization have themselves contributed no little to the noise of Richmond, and at night they get in their most heroic work. It is, therefore, no matter of surprise that they should array themselves against any movemen looking to our peace and comfort.

The meeting referred to was called to order by Babe Willie, aged 6 months, and susceptible to colic, who thunderously and untiringly explained the purpose of and untiringly explained the purpose of the gathering. T. Cotale Wootsie, who was not on this earth a year ago, was in his carriage as secretary, and little D. Evil Jones acted as sergeant-at-arms. Despite a liberal libation of scothing syrup applied to his throttle the Precious Swallowtax gave a thorough and complete ventilation of his lungs, and indignantly asserted that this movement, in point of iniquity, stood on a parity with the invention of safety-pins. He said that the scheme was purposely and maliclously hatched up at a season when the Sugar-Rag and Corn-Starch Association was necessarily much occupied. ciation was necessarily much occupied if nobody's slandered you, here is our with cholera intantum, and the afterresults of such green apples as could be surreptitiously procured. "I, for one, can." Sign yourself, 'Nobody,' quick as you that it was as little as she could do to undertake her education. Another let-raise my voice against this Anti-Noise scheme," said he, and, true to his word and to the fundamental principles of his organization, he howied. Nay! more; he howied throughout the night, and his mother was sore afraid, and soothing syrup flowed like water. Other projects syrup flowed like water. Other protests were put in at the meeting; several sugar-rags were severely bitten by toothless gums, and nineteen silk veils, at-tached to white lace skull-caps, were slobbered on. Finally, a resolution was adopted, and then the members of the association, one by one, dropped off to sleep, and did not wake again until their mathers and fathers had begun to doze mothers and fathers had begun to doze that night. Here is what was resolved:

(1) That we, the members of the SugarRag and Cern-Starch Association, view with diffidence and distrust the so-called with difficence and distrust the so-called anti-noise movement, which emanates from the dyspeptic brains of certain per-sons, whose diet, unlike ours, is unre-stricted, and whose nervousness is due to indigestion.

(2) It has ever been our constitutional privilege to make ourselves felt as also privilege to make ourselves felt at night, and, paregoric to the contrary notwith-standing, we propose to give expression to our feelings, and to murmur long and loudly when our hides are peppered with heat-humans.

heat-humps.

(3) It is foreign to the objects of this association to treat this matter, so far as it pertains to dogs and cats and sparrows, but as "bright, cute little babies," we wish to put ourselves on record as protesting against the narrow prejudices of diagrantied dyspeptics.

(4) The American baby is the representative of the unmuzzled and unterrified.

ative of the unmuzzled and unterrified has never been conquered, and never will be.

(5) Any person objecting to noises who can prove by affidavit that he wasn't an infant once himself will receive our heartfelt sympathy and consideration.

T. OOTSIE WOOTSIE, Secretary.

The bonds of family love and friendship are strong and good feeling is pre-dominant at meal times, but few are the home circles that can withstand that discord superinduced by just for the chicken gizzard. This is bit of fowl anatomy which few can resist and all deaire. It was a mistake that Nature made chickens with but one gizzard, for each and every one of us want it. Unfortunately, this India-rubbery organ must fall to the lot of one, and one alone. But who is to have it? Aye, there's the rub. Your pa will want it, and so will your ma. The baby likewise will how for the article, and the twins will light over it, while the two young ladies of the family will exchange sarcastic remarks in reference thereto. The winner of the prize will hardly enjoy it, for he will be the object of so much hatred that his appetite will be almost dediscord superinduced by lust for that his appetite will be almost de-stroved.

stroved.

The chicken, by the way, is a wonderful medium for the proof of human selfishness. As I've said before, it was a mistake that the bird was made with only one gizzard. Perhaps it was a still greater mistake that it was made with only two legs and one breast, for these parts are second only to the gizzard in point of desirability. Some day when you are serving a "frying size," ask the sires to foot all the Bills that came to you are serving a "frying sizer" ask the them. (Note to Editor: The above joke person on your right what portion he greatly tickled my wife and her eight desires, and carelessly he will say, in greatly tickled my wife and her eight maiden sisters, now stopping with me).

And now, perspiring reader, you naturally become interested when I talk dollars and cents, and in view of my estimates given above, half way wish that some of your wife's ripe women relatives would undertake to butt a steam locomotive off the track and make you her sole legatee. But note me, herein comes the inconsistency of the law. Supposing that a steam locomotive could injure the ripe female relative aforesaid, and that she was reduced to sausage, the law would only allow her representative $10,000. THE IDLE REPORTER.

The Growth of the German Navy.

(The Fortnightly Review.)

"If Nobody," &c. To the Editor of the Dispatch:

Would you kindly print the enclosed in your next Sunday's issue? I came eross it in an old book of sele Petersburg, Va. A RE. A READER. "If nobody's noticed you, you must be

If nobody's slighted you, you must be If nobudy's bowed to you, you must be If nobody's kissed you, you're ugly, you know. If nobody's envied you, you're a poor

If nobody's flattered you, flatter your-If nobody's cheated you, you are a knave; If nobody's hated you, you are a slave; If nobody's called you a fool to your Somebody's wished for your back in its

A DREAM IN BLACK AND WHITE. Exquisite black and white toilette. Sprays of thies in black Chantilly in white taffeta. The skirt is bordered with two pleatings of black tube some pleatings edge the bolero, which is short and shows a deep waist-band of black satin. It opens upon a front of cream lace. The very original hat has a brim of watergreen straw and a crown of white taffeta studded with jet, white plumes and a twist of white taffeta piped with black velvet. The white parasol has applications of Chantiliy lace.

Country Post-Office-Some Afton

(Correspondence of the Dispatch.)

burden to the average citizen, pen in hand. I remember reading last fall—during the election, when the engle screameth and the wangdoodle mourneth, in the campaign days, you know—that some of the mighty on the winning side pledged their party to "the reduction of letter postage to one cent per ounce, and the extension of a free carrier delivery to private letters, subrosa, that were no exception, but I am not going to give away free copies.

Things of no little amusement are the private letters that come to postmasters, The Growth of the German Navy.

(The Fortnightly Review.)

The growth of the German navy since 187 has been extraordinary. According to figure quoted in the Reichstag, the increase in mayal expenditure since the data of the Emperor William II. So accession it was 12,000, which is the data of the Emperor William II. Sa accession it was 12,000, which hy last year has risen to 1,35,000. The proposals of the German Admiralty for the present year involved an expenditure of $6,350.000. The proposals of the German Admiralty for the present year involved an expenditure of $6,350.000. The proposals of the German Admiralty for the present year involved an expenditure of $6,350.000. The proposals of the German Admiralty for the present year involved in a considerable for the discontinuance of very many small country post-offices, which are maintained at gitat expense for the construction of 4 battleships, they are asking for more, and are making it very obvious that they means to the first characteristic in the world are so many letters written as in the United States—the statistics good may arithmetic—and nowhere menced during the next four years was not, indeed, a particularly large one. It involved the construction of 4 battleships, 6 large crusters, 6 amile retuieers, and 5 to people et al. White his constitution of 5 battleships and the construction of 4 battleships and the proposal of the construction of 4 battleships and the construction of 5 battleships and the construction of 5 battleships and the construction of 4 battleships and the construction of 5 battleships a extension of a free carrier delivery to extension of a free carrier delivery to rural towes." This latter question has been discussed for years; the experiment is now on trial in some of the Northern and Western States, and we shall take off carde of shoe-boxes and dangling brooms their letters, magazines, and newspapers delivered by a special carrier, responsible for their safe delivery, instead of going long distances or sending by Tom, Dick, or Harry to the post-office, a postal millenium will have dawned in rural by

The 1-cent postal rate is a necessity of the times-twice as many letters would be written and the revenue would be the same, though for that matter, the departments of government are not expected to pay for themselves—that's the business of the Treasury Department. There is a fascination, more or less, about letters that does not stop aitogether at one's personal interest. Who does not like to watch the opening of the multiple of the multi muil bags in a small town, or peop through the window bars at the busy em-ployees of a city post-office? Sup-pose those thousands of silent missives could all at once give voice to their messages of joy and sorrow, of profit and thrown to me.

Among them were four letters from woman who claimed distant relationship, and because of that they wanted money or free tickets to something, or recommendations to hard-hearted editors. One writer was sufficiently com-plimentary to announce that she had named her baby girl for this lady, and

ONE - CENT POSTAGE. husband was of no account; that she had two little boys and a very handsome crazywork quilt; that she desired to raise THE TIMES.

a mortgage of $1,000 on her house, and that if a check for that amount was sent at once the quilit would be for warded. The writer also modestly futinated that a thousand dollars would be as nothing, when the recipient got be as nothing, when the recipient got server, and the multiple and $2.500. Community-The Curiosities of a pieces in it.

IMPROVEMENTS IN POEMS.

A number of people told of improve-ments that could be made in certain pooms and were willing to rewrite them for a bonus. A lot of young gtris wanted each an acrostle verse and an auto-AFTON, VA., July 17.-Postage, in these graph, and one worken, who described herself as a "spirit me um," would like burden to the average citizen, pen in the hall rent to be paid for her lectures, and if from a lady, is quite often accompanied by a note of instruction. One of these I have been given as a relict "mr. post-Master, please be keerful, they is flours inside."

Another scintillates with wee:

who it was from also, plese de not send my male down by Bill eny more." Of all the abstruce sciences of modern-ollogies and ographies, there is nothing so intensely absorbing as the study of human character from handwriting. One peeps through the door of intui-tion into the brain, and in nine cases out side their babel, that olden tower would be a deaf mute class in grammar. Did you ever open the morning post of a celebrity? Not so long ago I expressed a desire to share in the many letters that came to a woman widely known in the world of authorable and high society, and half the batch was thrown to me.

Among them were four letters from woman who classed distant and the same to watch out for vaciliation and want to watch out for vaciliation and most of them do, by the way. If you want to watch out for vaciliation and weakness in temptation, note the "broken-back k's," how they bend in-ward, and if you do not wish your self-love and self-esteem to be patent, cut off the flourishes from your capitals.

PERSONAL

Rev. Hartwell Hawthorn returned from Richmond greatly improved, and was able to be out at the young people's singing class Tuesday. Mary Goodloo was a visitor at Mirador last week.

Miss Mattle Lipscomb, of Rediands, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Noot, of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Cloud, of Charlottesville, are guests of Mrs. Tavenor Goodloe.

Mrs. W. H. Goodwin is visiting relatives in Staunton.

Society has settled down to the regular routine, which means hunting parties at dawn, dancing at night, and all sorts of out-door sports between. Most of the old habitues are here, and new at the hotels are chronicled every day.

A Cleverer Boy Than Others. (Harper's Bazar.) The boy stood on the burning deck Till all but him had fied,

And then he put the fire out, And went and cruised ahead. And when he'd had enough of that, He sailed into the slip, And got a thousand dellars down As salvage on the ship.

Orders for printing sent to the Dispatch Company will be given prompt attention and the style of work and prices will be in course conce one

THE SUMMER GIRL'S CROWNING GLORY IS HER HAIR-THE VERY LA TEST ARTISTIC COIFFURES DESIGNED BY THE FAMOUS M. LENTHE RIC, OF PARIS, THE GREATEST LIVING HAIRDRESSER.